

Coordination structures of the training programme for the Bachelor's Degree in Hospitality and Tourism Management (GGHT)

Purpose

The coordination of the subjects and other training activities of the GGHT degree programme requires systematic and sustained monitoring to ensure continuous improvement. The aim of this document is to present the existing structures and mechanisms for coordinating and improving the training programme.

Overview of the structures

At EUHT StPOL we have different levels of coordination in the training programme: the internal coordination of the shared subjects, the training areas, the coordinator of studies and internships, the Academic Directorate, the Centre Quality Commission, the School Board, as well as the University of Girona (UdG) Affiliated Centre Board.

1. Internal subject coordination

In the case of subjects taught by more than one teacher, one of the members of the subject teaching team is responsible for the subject. He/she organises the coordination of the contents and assessment of the subject, and updates the teaching guide.

2. Training areas

Each of the training areas has a vision focused on a group of subjects. The teaching staff of the assigned subjects are coordinated in the areas. The head of area reports to the academic director.

3. Study and Internship Coordinator

His functions include the organisation and coordination of training activities complementary to the subjects (internships, professional visits, etc.) and their integration into the training programme, the management of the premises and timetables of the practical classes that so require, as well as the relationship with companies before, during and after the students' internships, whether they are curricular or extracurricular.

4. Academic directorate

The academic director and her team monitor the cohesion and quality of the training programme and the assessment, and ensure that it runs smoothly. They receive suggestions and complaints from students and teaching staff, and discuss and promote improvements to the programme.

The academic director organises the annual teaching plans for the degree, reviews and approves the teaching guide of the subjects, and sets the timetables and exam dates within the framework of the official UdG calendar.

5. Centre Quality Commission (CQC)

The Quality Commission is the representative body at EUHT StPOL that carries out the formal monitoring of the degree, debates and approves the annual reports and improvements, and presents them to the School Board. It meets annually in ordinary session, and in extraordinary session when the situation requires it.

6. School Board

This representative body at EUHT StPOL formally reviews and ratifies the monitoring reports and the degree programme improvement plan. It meets annually in ordinary session, and in extraordinary session when the situation requires it.

7. University of Girona (UdG) Affiliated Centre Board

This is the highest academic representation organ of EUHT StPOL. It is composed of the centre's management and UdG representatives. Among other functions, it supervises and coordinates the centre's functioning and its academic, teaching and research activities. It meets annually in ordinary session, and in extraordinary session when the situation requires it.
